PUBGM RULEBOOK

Player commitment

- All competitors are expected to know and understand all the rules described here. Not knowing that a rule existed or that it was in place will not be considered as an acceptable reason for breaking said rule.
- Matches will be played on the mobile platform only. Emulators will not be allowed

Equipment Eligibility

- Players must only compete on an eligible device and may not use an external device or attachment of any kind that modifies the game's controls (e.g. Bluetooth controllers, wired controllers, mouse, keyboard etc.
- Players must use their own mobile devices (Android/IOS). Tablets and other similar devices or emulators are forbidden

Player Eligibility

- All player accounts should be at least level 50, any new PUBG accounts will not be allowed.
- Korean or VNG accounts strictly not allowed
- Same players cannot play in different teams on the same account. It is strictly prohibited.(Same account = account used to play in another team).
- Players are Informed not to Register for other Game title's since the qualification and semi final rounds are happening on the same timeline.

Match Schedule

Players are expected to be present at the exact times for their matches as announced. After groups are made, new players will not be added into any group.

- Management will make every effort to inform players of scheduled match dates and times – but please note it is the responsibility of the players to make sure they arrive on time for their matches. Management will not be responsible for informing players individually or providing reminders. Not attending a match due to not being informed of the schedule is NOT an excuse

Gameplay rules

- Use of restricted items during a game

  Straight disqualification will be given if you are caught using an item from the banned list and the win will be automatically given to the opponent.

- Abuses & Exploitation

  Exploiting game or map bugs/glitches/flaws (“exploits”) for the purposes of gaining an unfair advantage is prohibited. Exploits that are not specifically named here are still prohibited but will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis. Management reserve the right to decide what will be deemed as an exploit or abuse.

- Hacking

  Hacking or otherwise modifying the intended behavior of the game client is prohibited.

- Scripting

  The use of scripts are prohibited.

- Use of Macros

  The use of macros are prohibited.

- Use of Third Party Softwares

  The use of any third-party addons, hooks, programs or wrappers that interact with or alter the client, its appearance or behaviour for the purposes of gaining an unfair advantage is prohibited.

- Impersonations

  Impersonating an eligible player by attempting to alias as them, using their account or by any other method is prohibited and will result in the aliasing player and the player they are aliasing as being removed from the tournament.

- Collusion

  Collusion, match fixing, bribing a referee or match official, or any other action or agreement to intentionally influence (or attempt to influence) the outcome of any match or Event.

  Other forms of collusion include:

- Teaming: Players working together during the match
- Planned Movement: Agreement between 2 or more opposing players to move through the map in a planned way before the match begins.
- Communication: Sending or receiving signals (both verbal and non-verbal) to communicate with opposing players.
- Item Dumping: Intentionally dropping items for an opposing player to collect

Suspicious Player Pov Submission Rules

- To Accuse the team or a certain player is cheating or going against the rules, the relevant team accusing should provide a death replay or a proper screen recording.
- If management feels a team is playing suspiciously when asked for POV, failure to provide Either Hand-cam or screen recordings of their gameplay will lead to Straight disqualification.
- Therefore, teams are advised to record their gameplays either from Screen recording or hand-cams through the tournament to avoid further disappointments. (Specific time will be given for the submission of these screen recordings, failure to submit within the given time will lead to disqualification).
